Federal Home Loan Bank of Indianapolis Names Barbara K. Hembree as Vice President, Manager of Communications and Media Relations

Indianapolis, IN...The Federal Home Loan Bank of Indianapolis (FHLBI) is pleased to announce that Barbara K. Hembree has been named Vice President, Manager of Communications and Media Relations.

Ms. Hembree joined FHLBI in July 2004 as communications manager, bringing over 30 years of experience in crisis communications, media relations, corporate communications, marketing, and reputation management. During the past year, she led the rebranding effort of the FHLBI, which included developing a new logo and tagline, launched the new brand both internally and externally, produced the 2004 annual report, and assisted with numerous speeches and presentations.

Before coming to the FHLBI, Ms. Hembree was director of corporate affairs for Lone Star Industries in Indianapolis. Prior to Lone Star, she was employed in different communications roles at IWC Resources, Indiana Farm Bureau Insurance, and for the office of former Indianapolis Mayor William Hudnut. Hembree's background also includes work as a news correspondent and a reporter/anchor for Indianapolis radio and TV stations.

Ms. Hembree holds a BS in communications from Hamilton University in Evanston, Wyoming, and has completed specialized training course in public and media relations at the University of North Florida and the University of Indianapolis. She has completed crisis communications and management courses at the Emergency Management Institute of Maryland and attended the Binomial International's Disaster Recovery Training in Washington, DC.
