1. INTRODUCTION

The Federal Home Loan Bank of Indianapolis (the “Bank”) is committed to the establishment of a comprehensive Anti-Fraud program for all of its business lines. This Policy is established pursuant to the regulations of the Federal Housing Finance Agency (Finance Agency), the Finance Agency’s Advisory Bulletin 2015-01 on FHLBank Fraud Reporting (Advisory Bulletin or AB), and the regulations of the Financial Crimes Enforcement Network (FinCEN). It is the policy of the Bank to comply fully and completely with all applicable governmental requirements that have been designed to prohibit and prevent fraud and financial crimes, such as money laundering, terrorist financing, and/or other criminal activity.

This Anti-Fraud Policy (Policy) is part of the Bank’s overall Anti-Fraud Program, which includes the Bank Secrecy Act (BSA), Anti-Money Laundering (AML), and Office of Foreign Asset Control (OFAC) Programs. This Policy will be reviewed at least annually and updated as necessary in response to changes in applicable law and changes in the Bank’s operations.

In case of a conflict among the requirements of this Policy, the Procedures, applicable law, or regulation (including, without limitation, applicable guidance, Advisory Bulletin, Q&A, or other written advice of the Finance Agency), the following will govern in order of priority: (1) applicable law, (2) applicable regulation (as defined above), (3) this Policy, and (4) Procedures.

Willful or grossly negligent non-compliance with this Policy may subject a person to discipline per the Code of Conduct.

2. POLICY

2.1. DEFINITIONS

2.1.1. MONEY LAUNDERING

“Money laundering” is generally defined as engaging in acts designed to conceal or disguise the nature, control, or true origin of criminally derived proceeds so that those proceeds appear to have been derived from legitimate activities or origins or otherwise constitute legitimate assets.

2.1.2. TERRORIST FINANCING

Unlike money laundering, terrorist financing is typically motivated by ideological, rather than profit-seeking concerns, and often may not involve the proceeds of criminal conduct. Money laundering is frequently an important component of terrorist financing, and the methods used are often similar or identical to those used by money launderers. Large sums are not necessarily involved, and the original funds may well be legitimate rather than illegally obtained. One goal of terrorist financing is to establish flexible and mobile sources of funding for the purchase of products and services that will be used to further or commit terrorist acts.

2.1.3. SUSPICIOUS ACTIVITY

“Suspicious Activity” includes any observed or detected behavior or activity that could indicate financial crime or another violation of law. The Bank may use a number of methods to identify potentially suspicious activity, including but not limited to activity identified by employees during day-to-day operations, law enforcement inquiries or requests, advisories issued by regulatory or law enforcement agencies, transaction and surveillance monitoring system output, or any combination of these.

2.1.4. FRAUD

“Fraud” means a deliberate, wrongful and/or criminal deception intended to result in unfair and/or unlawful financial or personal gain. Fraud generally means an act of deception, bribery, forgery, extortion, theft, misappropriation, false representation, conspiracy, corruption, collusion, embezzlement, or intentional concealment or the omission of material facts. Fraud is a violation of trust that, in general, refers to an intentional act committed to secure personal or business advantage. While fraud can cover many activities, this Policy is directed primarily at financial matters that could be legally defined as fraud. There are numerous criminal and civil definitions of fraud. Listed below are additional examples of “financial fraud”, which generally fall into three broad categories and may include, but are not limited to, the intentional:

- 2.1.4.1. Misappropriation of assets, including, without limitation, forgery, alteration or misappropriation of checks, drafts, promissory notes, or securities; unauthorized non-business acquisition, use, or disposition of funds, inventory, furniture, fixtures, equipment, records, or other assets; embezzlement; theft; falsifying time sheets or payroll records including, but not limited to, reporting hours not worked or a supervisor not allowing the reporting of all hours worked by hourly employees; falsifying travel and entertainment expenses and/or utilizing Bank funds to pay for personal expenses; fictitious reporting of receipts from suppliers or shipments to customers; misappropriation of Bank-owned computer hardware, software, data, or other records including intangibles (e.g., proprietary information, trade secrets, patents, etc.);
- 2.1.4.2. Fraudulent financial reporting, including, without limitation, improper earnings management, improper revenue recognition; overstatement of assets, understatement of liabilities, and misapplication of generally accepted accounting principles;
- 2.1.4.3. Expenditures and liabilities for improper purposes, including, without limitation, bribery and kickbacks; and
- 2.1.4.4. Intentional and willful making of any other material representations.

2.1.5. EMPLOYEE WRONGDOING

Employee wrongdoing is any deliberate and willful or grossly negligent violation of a Bank policy or established procedure, where the violation has the potential to harm the Bank, whether as a whole or within a specific department, the potential to harm other employees, or the potential to harm the reputation of the Bank. Wrongdoing can also be a repeated violation of a Bank policy or other misconduct, despite prior warnings or other explicit instructions.

“Harm” does not have to include any monetary value and includes, but is not limited to:

- 2.1.5.1. Misuse of position;
- 2.1.5.2. The attempt to influence another employee to participate in questionable activity, which may result in a violation of Bank policies, including the Code of Conduct;
- 2.1.5.3. Knowingly making a false statement to senior management or the Board of Directors; and
- 2.1.5.4. Falsifying reports or data used by the Bank in any aspect of its business, including reports presented to Bank working groups, committees, and the Board of Directors and its committees.

2.2. FINANCIAL INSTRUMENTS FRAUD OFFICER (FIFO) AND AML OFFICER

Further, any Covered Person who is subpoenaed or required to disclose a regulatory filing, a report required by the Finance Agency, or the information contained in such report, will report the existence of that subpoena or requirement immediately to the General Counsel and the FIFO prior to disclosure of the information to the regulator.
